

EARL Boston 2018

13 November 2018

The Charles Hotel

| | |
|-------------------|--|
| 8:00am – 8:30am | Registrations open |
| 9:00am – 9:10am | Welcome Tim Oldfield, Mango Solutions |
| 9:10am- 9:55am | Keynote Bob Rudis, Rapid7 |
| 9:55am – 10:40am | PANEL - Examining the future of R in industry Moderator: Aimee Gott, Mango Solutions Bob Rudis, Rapid7 David Smith, Microsoft Robert Bethell, RStudio |
| 10:40am – 11:00am | Morning break |
| 11:00am – 11:30am | Where's my T-Shirt? Supply chain forecasts in fashion Doug Ashton, Mango Solutions |
| 11:30am – 12:00pm | Predicting likelihood of engine failure in light duty trucks Omari Faakye, Holman Strategic Ventures |
| 12:00pm – 12:15pm | How to excel without using Excel Nathan Stephens, RStudio |
| 12:15pm – 12:30pm | Building an R-centred reproducible research framework Charles Tilford, Bristol-Meyers Squibb |
| 12:30pm – 1:30pm | Lunch break |
| 1:30pm – 2:00pm | Not Hotdog: Image recognition with R and the Custom Vision API David Smith, Microsoft |
| 2:00pm – 2:30pm | GPU-Accelerated visualisation: A primer on exploratory data analysis at scale Randy Zwitch, OmniSci |
| 2:30pm – 2:45pm | Protecting consumers from counterfeit medicines using R and Google Maps Sarah Eltinge, Johnson & Johnson |
| 2:45pm – 3:30pm | Afternoon break |
| 3:30pm – 4:00pm | Designing empathetic, empowering, and engaging internal tools for analytics Emily Riederer, Capital One |
| 4:00pm – 4:15pm | Developing an open-source, self-service timeseries forecasting API with R and Microsoft Azure Doug Friedman, Johnson & Johnson |
| 4:15pm – 4:45pm | Using R to proactively identify members with special medical needs Alvertos Fiorantis, Bupa UK |
| 4:45pm – 5:00pm | Uses of R to energize the energy sector Meg Cantwell, eCurve |
| 5:00pm – 5.15pm | Building a data science team with R Aimée Gott, Mango Solutions |
| 5:15pm – 5:25pm | Conference close Tim Oldfield, Mango Solutions |
| 5:30pm – 7:00pm | Networking drinks |

Thanks to our sponsors:

